Dawes' Report Shows Germany on Feet

EXPORTS PASS 1913; FINANCES STABLE; PAYS UP Reparations Agent Tells Progress.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Copyright, 1925, by The Chicago Tribune.)
BERLIN, Dec. 13.—Germany is making rapid strides toward industrial and commercial health. The operation of the Dawes plan thus far has vindicated the work of the experts, according to the first annual report of Seymour Parker Gilbert, agent general for reparations, which was issued in Berlin today.

The terms of the London agreement for the first year have been fulfilled by Germany to the last detail and the payments thus far received on the second year, beginning Sept. 1, indicate the results will be just as satisfactory.

"The two primary objects for which the experts were appointed," declares Mr. Gilbert, "have been attained. The German budget is balanced with a considerable margin of safety, and the stability of the German currency has been fully maintained."

Plan Functions Smoothly.
"In the field of reparations the practical results already achieved are encouraging. The first annuity of 1,000,000,000 gold marks ($250,000,000) all has been paid within a year, four-fifths from the proceeds of an external loan and one-fifth by the German railway company. The creditor powers of their part are receiving the reparations payments regularly on a substantial scale. The plan generally is functioning smoothly and all those concerned in its execution have worked together loyally in a spirit of friendly cooperation."

Lays Economic Foundation.
"It is still too soon to draw conclusions about the ultimate results of the plan. The fact is, however, that it has reduced the problem of reparations to a rational basis and provided for the determination of its possibilities by the test of actual experience. The first year of the plan, in the contemplation of the experts, was the year in which the foundations should be laid for the German economic recovery."

"Accordingly it placed no burden on the German budget and but a little on the German economy. It provided at the same time for reparations payments and deliveries of considerable volume, but for the most part the funds necessary for financing them were to come from the proceeds of an external loan. In that sense the first year has been not so much a test of Germany's capacity to pay as a test of the ability of Germany's economy to adjust itself and return to stable conditions."

THE INVESTITURE

$100,000 BLAZE IN ROGERS PARK

A mysterious fire last night practically destroyed the Rogers Park Congregational church, one of the most important edifices in Rogers Park. Damage estimated at $100,000 was done to the building and to expensive stained glass windows. The large pipe organ was completely wrecked.

Clinton E. Gibson, 1674 Pratt boulevard, church treasurer, said after the flames had subsided that the church was amply insured. The pastor, the Rev. William Weston Patton, 6225 North Ashland avenue, attempted to save some books from his study, but was unsuccessful. The fire had gained considerable headway by the time the fire department arrived.

SWALLOWS 109 PEARLS; FACES THEFT CHARGE

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 13.—An Argentine society woman's charges against a fascinating nobleman whose acquaintance she recently made aboard a ship and whom she subsequently invited to her Buenos Aires residence, is now occupying the attention of the Federal court.

Enzo Perillo, who claims to be a member of Italian nobility, appropriated a string of 109 pearls and swallowed them to avoid detection when suspicion fell on him, thus successfully resisting the ordeal of a rigorous search of his person, which was insisted upon by his hostess.

ELEANORA SEARS ON PROVIDENCE TO BOSTON WALK

Providence, R. I., Dec. 14.—[Special.]—Miss Eleanor Sears, well known in Boston, began to walk from Providence to Boston soon after 1 o'clock this morning on a wager that she could cover the distance by foot in 16 hours. She reached Pawtucket, almost four miles, at 1:46 o'clock, having made the distance at the rate of better than five miles an hour. (The distance from Providence to Boston is about 45 miles.)

Before her start she explained that the wager had been made more than a year ago and that it stipulated that the walk should be made in the autumn. She started once before to try to win the wager, but was forced to abandon the walk by a blizzard. Miss Sears is known as an expert tennis player and horsewoman.

OFFICER SLAIN, ALSO PAL OF PAROLED THIEF

Guns Crash at Inn After Holdup.

Two former convicts—one of them the holder of a special-discharge parole from Joliet penitentiary—protested with bullets yesterday when two policemen sought to arrest them as they took their ease with women friends in the Mannheim tavern near River Forest after a successful afternoon stickup. Motorcycle Policeman Ed Pfau was fatally wounded in the exchange of shots. As he fell, Policeman McBride shot and killed one of the bandits.

The second bandit fired. His bullet grazed McBride's temple. He fired again and missed. McBride fired and struck him in the arm. The bandit turned, plunged headlong through a window and escaped in the dusk across a prairie, with bullets from the pistols of McBride and two other policemen, who had been stationed outside, whistling about him.

Officer Dies in Hospital.
Pfau died four hours later at the Speedway hospital. He is the first Forest Park policeman who was killed in thirteen years.

The dead robber was identified, by photographs and finger prints at the detective bureau, as James Johnstone, an ex-convict, bank robber and bandit of sorts. His companion, according to the women with him, is William J. White, also an ex-convict and member of a gang of bank robbers. Both have been sought since the bank of McHenry, Ill., was robbed of $18,775 on Oct. 24.

Another crime laid at their door by the police was the robbery of the Bremen State bank of Tinley Park on Nov. 4. The loot on that occasion was $5,000.

One Bandit Paroled from Joliet.
White, according to records at the bureau of identification, was sentenced to Joliet in 1919 for robbery. He was paroled in April, 1924, and on April 21, 1925, received a special discharge parole. Johnstone served a term in Pontiac for robbery.

It was shortly after 4 p. m. that John Joyce, 1742 Monroe street, Forest Park, driver of an ice cream truck, reported that he had been held up at Madison street and First avenue, in Forest Park, by two men who drove away in an automobile. Police in all the suburban towns were told to patrol the roads for the bandits.

Policemen Pfau and Morris Jacobs of Forest Park, McBride of Bellwood, and Charles Jones of Berwyn arrived at the Mannheim tavern about the same time. They saw the automobile parked in front. Pfau and McBride went in to find the driver.

Woman Traps Driver Fleeing in Vamp Car

Mrs. Elizabeth Cooper of 556 Brompton place was the heroine last night of a thrilling pursuit of an automobile driver who had struck and probably fatally injured a pedestrian at Surf street and Sheridan road.

Riding in a cab to keep an engagement with friends, Mrs. Cooper witnessed the accident and noticed that the driver, Leo Jensen, 331 Windsor avenue, kept on going after his car struck the victim. Mrs. Cooper hastily ordered her own driver to stop. She hailed another cab and directed its driver to take the injured man to a hospital.

Has Motorist Arrested.
Mrs. Cooper then ordered her own driver to pursue Jensen. They followed the motorist to Brompton place and Broadway, where he was crowded to the curb. Summoning a nearby policeman, Mrs. Cooper had Jensen arrested.

At the Columbus hospital it was said the victim, believed to be M. V. Quinn, from a name found in his clothes, may die. His skull was fractured. Jensen is being held at the Sheffield avenue station.

Three Deaths in a Day.
Three deaths as a result of automobile accidents yesterday raised the toll in Cook county to 750.

Miss Alice Seward, 23 years old, 1451 Granville avenue, was killed yesterday morning when she slipped from a rapidly moving automobile at the Northwestern railroad crossing at Tushy avenue in Telaville in the belief that the car was about to be struck by a train. Her skull was fractured and she died on the way to a hospital. Her companions, William Morrison, 1810 Wisconsin avenue, and Miss Alice Nipper, 7438 Hillside avenue, were uninjured. The car was wrecked as it struck a post.

John Edis, 65 years old, 1300 11th street, Melrose Park, was found dead yesterday at 11th and Lake streets. Police believe he was struck by an automobile.

Boy Killed at Play.
While playing in front of 5500 West Grand avenue yesterday, Adolph Mazan, 8 years old, 2110 North Lockwood avenue, was hit by a machine driven by John Parr, 1602 West Madison street, who was held by the police. The boy died on the way to the Keystone hospital.

Prayer books were scattered over the roadside yesterday morning when a car driven by Wayne Adams, 6871 North Clark street, overturned on Sheridan road while on the way to church in Highland Park. His companion, Virginia Van Swearingen, 20 years old, 1371 Ridge avenue, Evanston, is at the Highland Park hospital in a serious condition.

Singer Is Injured.
While on her way to sing at night at the Cooper-Carlton hotel, Madame Anastasia Rabinoff, 2122 North Kedzie avenue, said to be a member of the San Carlo opera company, was cut about the face and hands when her cab collided with another machine. She was taken to the Illinois Central hospital.

TRIPLE MURDER POSSES TRAIL MYSTERY PAIR

Banker, Wife, and Child Slain.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.
Batavia, Ill., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—In the investigation of the triple murder here last night of Henry W. Jaska, farmer and banker; his wife, Eva, and their son, Ralph, 6 years old, Sheriff Herman Vierke of Kane county and his chief deputy, C. L. Riley, were to-night hunting two men seen to abandon the blood stained Jaska automobile at West Chicago, three miles from the scene of the killings, early this morning. Poses were tonight scouring the community for trace of the pair.

Deputy Riley, while in West Chicago this afternoon, obtained information that two men were seen fleeing from the automobile. His informants gave a good description of the men, which is being kept secret pending possible arrests.

Find Finger Prints on Auto.
Deputy Riley also copied finger prints from the steering wheel of the automobile which he rushed to Chief of Detectives A. G. Wira of Aurora. He also obtained finger prints from Jaska's automobile license card, which he picked up at the scene of the murder, and from a broken window pane at the home. Copies of the prints were taken to the bureau of identification in Chicago by Chief Wira.

The most tenable theory in the murders, according to Sheriff Vierke and Sheriff John Heasterman of Du Page county, points to a burglary attempt, so authorities are having roads patrolled and a search made for a thief who has been playing a vigorous trade in this vicinity.

On the other hand, there is the story that some one who knew and hated the Jaskas stole into their farmhouse last night and lay in wait, shooting all down as they drove up and alighted from their automobile. To confuse investigations the house was turned topsy turvy, according to this theory.

Agree Slaves to Morn.
Whoever committed the crime is a moron. It is agreed. Mrs. Jaska, a buxom matron of 34, was found on the floor of the parlor of her home, her clothing torn from her body. No one has been found who saw the slayer enter or leave the farmhouse road. Though it is believed that one person is responsible, officials conceded there might have been two.

W. B. Beem, cashier of the Batavia National bank, in which the slain Jaskas was maintaining a checking account, was assisting Sheriff Vierke, who is also wanted for liquor, stolen goods and other crimes, in the search for the slayer.

When he entered the house, Mr. Beem said, he noticed a child's bank filled heavily with coins, on the mantel. In one of the opened drawers was a bracelet and a red ring.

where I got the chief of police, L. L. Orch.

Chief Orch summoned Coroner Hollister and with Hall they went to the farmhouse. The coroner best related what they found.

"I looked at the body," he said. "It was covered with blood, and I thought it might be one of the revelers from the roadhouse. I hurried toward the house to see if Henry was home and I stumbled over something."

Boy's Body Is Found.

"Stooping, I found the boy's body, and then I knew the other body was Jesse's. We dashed for the house then, and inside the front room I stumbled again. Lighting a lantern, we discovered Mrs. Jesse, with two bullets in her head. Her clothing was ripped over her head and we supposed she had been attacked. Later I called in a physician, who said she was not attacked, but assuredly an attempt was made. Perhaps it was forestalled by the boy coming into the farmyard and scaring the intruder away."

Coroner Hollister then sent for the sheriff, he said, and notified radio stations to broadcast a warning to catch the slayer.

Coroner's Jury Adjourns.

The rooms were in great disorder, clothing, books and papers having been pulled from drawers and closets. They were not disturbed and hundreds of curious country folk stopped there to peek in the windows and stand in awed silence about the pools of blood outside.

The coroner's jury was adjourned subject to call. The jurors recommended to the Kane county board that a substantial reward be offered for the apprehension of the killer.

Theory of Crime.

The officials, progressing along the curricular moron theory, offer this theory of the crime's commission:

The burglar entered by breaking a ground window near the latch, opening it then and slipping up the eash. Then the telephone wires were cut to forestall the giving of an alarm.

In the course of ransacking the house the burglar was surprised by the owner rushing to the door. He killed one after another probably so quickly that they had no chance to run or scream. Neighbors not far distant heard no shots.

Then he dragged in Mrs. Jesse's body and, though she was dead, either one of the two shots in her head being sure to kill her, tore off her clothing.

Burglaries in Neighborhood.

A burglar of apparent maniacal tendencies has been preying upon homes in Aurora, Geneva, and other cities close to Batavia, it was reported by the authorities.

Once he burglarized a home, but took only a cooked goose, it was said. Another time, when surprised in a burglary, he fired several shots at his detector. He has selected several farmhouses for his work, always entering in the manner as used by the Jesse slayer.

Another theory being considered is that the same "Lovers' lane" murderer, who recently killed Ivan Blain and Miss Frances Schuster at Glen Ellyn on a lonely road near Bloomingdale, five miles from here, may have repeated.

BRIAND TOTTERS AS FRENCH CRY FOR A DICTATOR

Opposition to Financial Plan Threatens Coup.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) (Copyright, 1933, By The Chicago Tribune.)

PARIS, Dec. 13.—The capital was stunned today upon reading in half a dozen leading and most influential newspapers unveiled demands for a dictatorship to seize power before the government faces bankruptcy.

Hitherto proposals for such a coup were limited to certain party publications owned and edited by leaders of the opposition to the present parliament majority. Today some of the six big dailies take up the cry.

In a two column first page editorial the Matin calls on the country's leaders to assert themselves and form a "committee of public salvation," assuming full powers and complete responsibility, and seize the task of governing the nation, taking the slogan "Succeed or Die in the Attempt."

Fall of Briand Looms.

The growing parliamentary opposition to Finance Minister Loucheur's taxation project and public discontent with the measures envisaged—for instance, the increased cost of tobacco, cigars, and cigarettes, and augmented postage for letters—give rise to the belief that the Briand cabinet will not last another week.

Rumors are current that the veteran premier has decided to throw M. Loucheur overboard and select a new finance minister from one of the right parties of the chamber—maybe M. Bonkowski of the nationalist bloc—in order to obtain the support of this powerful group, but even such a change is not expected to solve the problem, as it would alienate many votes from the left and unite that cartel against the government.

Franc Slips, Living Costs Rise.

With the franc crumbling—closing at 28 to a dollar Saturday afternoon—the cost of living is going up and an ominous wave of spending is surging over the country. It appears that many citizens feel money is going to depreciate to worthless, like the mark, and that they had better buy something material quickly before the paper becomes valueless.

Despite the extreme gravity of the situation, however, there is no indication that the man on the street realizes the necessity of personal sacrifices, such as paying additional taxes, and every one is attempting to change his money into foreign currency and get it out of the country to save it from a capital levy.

Make Foreigners Pay Up.

The foreigners here—Americans, English, and others—who pay taxes honestly because the French always manage to find means to collect the full tithe from foreigners despite their inability to make their countrymen disgorge, say it is unnecessary to increase taxes, but merely to enforce the present taxation.

It is estimated that nearly 90 per cent of the income taxation is evaded, which is easy, because if the Frenchman declines to state his income or salary for tax assessments the authorities ascertain the rent he pays and then tax him on the basis of an income seven times the rent.

State Loans Vast Revenue.

Since even the most expensive apartments cost around 20,000 francs ($725) annually, it is easy to see how the state loses vast revenue.

The farmers in the entire country in 1924 paid only 60,000,000 francs ($3,142,857) in taxes. It is estimated that Paris alone provides nearly 90 per cent of the nation's taxation.

The politicians fear to tax the farmers because of their votes and the difficulty of proving their means. The principal reason nobody uses checks or maintains bank accounts is to prevent the government agents from learning their resources. The average person—nearly every one except the millionaires, and they keep their wealth abroad—hoards his money under a carpet or in an old teapot, which is one reason there are so many crimes.

The coming week is expected to be a decisive one in the republic's history. A study of the situation indicates that no public demonstration or disorder is likely, even if a coup is attempted against parliament or the government.

When Drys Seize Liquor

Recognized as they entered the place, Jonathan Paul and John Emmanuel, two prohibition agents of the office of Prohibition Director Yellowley, were the center of a riot last night in a Persian poolroom, 644 North Clark street.

A squad of police was rushed to their rescue as they fired several shots in subduing the crowd in the poolroom. Six men were arrested.

The government agents were mobbed by the inmates, all Persians, as they seized a pitcher containing liquor.

RELIEF DUE TO THIS WEEK

Chicago Trip Stem Tide.

By The Tribune Press Service.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 13.—(Special.)—The end of the week the first guns will have been fired in the battle that will take place in congress over farm relief legislation—a conflict likely to have far-reaching consequences, not only economic but political.

President Coolidge and the farm bloc leaders having proclaimed a discordant view of government aid for agriculture the battle lines are being drawn.

The administration bill is now being introduced. It is purely a cooperative measure and to promote the production of cooperative marketing by the farmers it merely provides for the establishment of federal facilities in the department of agriculture. There is to be nothing more than remotely of farm subsidies in the administration bill.

Farm Bodies in Opposition.

President's theories on agricultural relief are not acceptable to a large number of the farm organizations. There is to be nothing more than remotely of farm subsidies in the administration bill. There will be a number of these administration measures proposed to the lot of the farmer. The farmer, chief of which is a provision of price of farm products through governmental, or semi-governmental, instrumentalities. The American Farm Bureau federation is expected to get behind some of the bill providing machinery to control radical declines in the prices of farm products due to crop surpluses. The administration had supposed the federation, which is one of the most conservative of farm organizations, would go along with the administration. It is not, however, and no farther. Mr. Coolidge to Chicago and outlined his agricultural policies under the auspices of the administration. He underlined the broad view to head off what the farmer considers dangerous price schemes.

Fears the Worst.

The administration confidently expected for an endorsement of the President's position by the federation. Up to date it has not been forthcoming. The federation has now given way to fear of something entirely different soon to be forthcoming. For it is noted that the conservative element was defeated in the recent election of officers of the federation and that the faction favoring price regulation is now in control.

President evidently failed to understand the situation to the farmers' own organization. They are in a speech unimpaired, save by a sense of disappointment. His warning which proposed legislation as a bait to lure the federation into a trap is a price fixing pure and simple. Scarcely had the executive taken the floor than the federation elected to support the sort of legislation proposed.

Representative Dickinson (Rep., Ia.) introduced one of the anti-administration measures. His bill provides for the price of a product of the farm. There is a surplus.

Combines in New Role.

Mr. Cummins (Rep., Ia.) is a member in the ranks of aggressive price regulation. He will use his bill next week. He has failed, with no success, to convert the House to support of his proposal. Secretary of Agriculture J. H. Wickard announced the Cummins legislation will more radical in its respects than the McNary bill.

Administration leaders in congress are already heard of the organization of the House committee on agriculture has been against price regulation legislation.

Next Year to Tell Tale.

WILL TAKE YEARS TO STOP RUM RUNNING, VIEW OF ADMIRAL

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 13.—(Special.)—The coast guard is making "steady and gratifying progress" in breaking up rum running and "will drive this menace from American shores in due time," Admiral F. C. Billard, coast commandant, declared to-night in his annual report, but he warned that it must be prepared for a trying task "for years to come."

Although the traditional duty of conservation of life and property has been well performed and rum running has been somewhat curbed, Admiral Billard said, personnel and equipment must be further augmented if the task is to continue effectively. The enlargement of the coast guard has been fully justified, in his opinion, and he urged that expansion proceed along permanent lines.

"The enlargement of the coast guard for anti-smuggling work was made on a temporary basis," the report said. "It is apparent to the close observer that this augmentation of service forces will be necessary for years to come. Good administration, the full protection of government interests and proper enforcement of the law would therefore seem to require, in the best interests of economy, enlargement of the service on a permanent basis."

agricultural groups in the G. O. P. stronghold in the middle west, particularly in Iowa, Minnesota and the Dakotas. The extent of this unpopularity will be disclosed by the congressional primaries and election next year. There is Democratic hopes of capturing control of congress.

It is not beyond the realm of possibilities that an agricultural revolt will develop eventually and produce a candidate for President in 1928. Senator Capper (Rep., Kas.) is frequently mentioned as its logical leader and as its appropriate candidate for President.

The senator holds that what the farmer needs is the measure of protection that American industries enjoy. He finds that such protection is not forthcoming to the farms from the protective tariff, and that farm production must be provided by other devices.

BRITISH OFFER COMPROMISE ON MOSUL DISPUTE

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
GENEVA, Dec. 13.—A settlement of the Mosul dispute was brought closer tonight after conferences between leaders of nations officials, the Turks, and the British. Tewfik Roushdy Bey, Turkish minister of foreign affairs, departed for Paris this morning and will return to Geneva tonight, ready for Tuesday's discussions on the question. Muntz Bey, Turkish envoy to Switzerland, is pushing the efforts for an adjustment.

The British for the first time have indicated they will make concessions to Turkey, L. S. Amery, British colonial secretary, is willing, as soon as the league has decided whether Iraq is entitled to retain the territory or whether Turkey's demand is to be sustained, to open negotiations with the Turks to make the decision of the league council mutually more acceptable.

This means that the league contemplates majority or even unanimous "recommendation" which will form the basis for independent negotiations between the Turks and the British. It is understood that the Turks favor such a solution.

GERMANY FINDS OLD TIME VIGOR IN DAWES PLAN

Trade Prospers, Finance Stable, Gilbert Says.

In balancing the budget for the financial year of 1924-25. The extraordinary surplus revenue that resulted led to expenditures which were not strictly necessary and could be avoided, were the finances of Germany in a less favorable position. The existence of the surplus made it difficult to resist pressure from political sources for expenditures not contemplated by the regular budget.

Beating Back to Peace Days.
His review of Germany's industrial and commercial situation reveals the fact that the nation rapidly is approaching the conditions prevailing before the war. Its currency circulation reached 5,082,000,000 marks ($1,270,000,000) on Nov. 1, compared with nearly 6,000,000,000 marks ($1,500,000,000) before the war. This circulation is backed by gold of foreign currencies suitable to support government currency totaling 1,525,000,000 marks ($381,250,000), or 20.6 per cent. Credit conditions, the report points out, remain bad, with the result that industrial organizations, which were the outgrowth of inflation, are vulnerable to "these periods of strain."

On the whole, however, the report indicates that Germany's present industrial and financial crisis is passing.

Exports Pass 1913 Figures.
Germany's export trade, which has been gaining steadily since stabilization, passed the average monthly figure for 1913 of $41,000,000 marks ($210,250,000) when in October exports reached a total of $46,000,000 marks ($211,500,000). Imports continue largely in excess of the 1913 average, but the excess of imports over exports is being reduced steadily from month to month, indicating a return to healthier conditions for trade. No reparations deliveries in kind are included in the above figures. Germany's purchases in the United States are almost double what they were before the war, and sales to the United States are somewhat lower.

Heavy industry also is rapidly regaining the position occupied in 1913, the steel production during the first year under the Dawes plan exceeding that of 1913 by nearly 1,000,000 tons, with 12,500,000 tons against 11,700,000 tons. Business failures averaged 318 monthly in the first ten months of 1925, compared with 315 a month in 1913.

Railways Show Profit.

The section of Mr. Gilbert's report dealing with railways is of special interest because they must pay a large time since the war the railways are removed from the sphere of politics into which they came when the republic took over the state systems. During the post-war period the railways were operated at considerable loss. The report of the commissioner of railways, which Mr. Gilbert attaches, declares: "The company took over the work of the railways on Oct. 13, 1924, but it was not until Nov. 16 that it received the lines in the Ruhr and Rhineland, previously operated by the allies' regime. None the less, the commissioner reported that on the basis of provisional figures for the available period of less than eleven months ending Aug. 31, 1925, it appears that the operating receipts exceeded the operating expenses by approximately 765,000,000 marks ($191,250,000), thus confirming the experts' estimates."

"The commissioner calls attention to the fact that the railway company in the first annuity year paid the agent general in accordance with the plan the full sum of 360,000,000 gold marks ($90,000,000) payable the first year on account of 11,000,000,000 ($2,750,000,000) in reparations bonds and that at the end of this year the company found itself in a position to set aside an additional sum of 130,000,000 gold marks ($32,500,000) toward the second year's payment of reparations bonds. Furthermore, the company's earnings have been such as to permit it to put $8,000,000 gold marks ($20,000,000) into a reserve fund."

A political cartoon titled "THE RECORDING ANGEL". The angel, with large wings and a halo, is shown from the back, writing in a large book titled "BOOK OF JUDGMENT". The book has two columns: "DEBIT" and "CREDIT". The name "Goodfellow" is written in the "DEBIT" column. Below the angel, a man in a top hat and coat carries a large drum and a stick, walking towards the right. To the left, a woman in a headscarf and a child are seen through a doorway, looking out. The scene is set in a dark, arched opening. At the bottom, a speech bubble from the man with the drum reads: "INASMUCH AS YE HAVE DONE IT UNTO ONE OF THE LEAST OF THESE MY BRETHREN, YE HAVE DONE IT UNTO ME."

Mrs. Along insisted that an unknown assassin called at the apartment and shot Along when he opened the door. But Capt. Condon and Assistant State's Attorney Thomas Richardson point out that Along was found, mortally wounded, kneeling as if in prayer at his bedside. Two bullet holes were in the wall a few feet away.

Fire, believed to have been caused by crossed wires, caused $5,000 damage in the three story building occupied by the Colnon Real Estate company, 410 South Clark street, last night. Bartholomew O'Toole, 6600 Ellis avenue, is the Chicago manager for the real estate company.

Mrs. Young was supported by a son, David Young, who conducts a clothing store at 905 Fifteenth avenue, East Moline, Ill. The son was notified and will arrive today to take charge of the body, which was removed to the county morgue. Death was due to natural causes, the police said.

EX-CONVICT HITS SMALL, DRY LAW AS CRIME CAUSES

Swift and Lasting Justice
Only Remedy, He Says.

BY SIDNEY SUTHERLAND.

Gov. Len Small was denounced as "that putrid governor of Illinois," and the Volstead act was branded as the chief cause of America's crime problem, in a dynamic address before the Chicago Forum in the Apollo theater yesterday afternoon.

In obtaining Louis Victor Eyttinger, a New York advertising man, to discuss the crime problem before 450 listeners, the Forum got a man who knows his knitting, for Mr. Eyttinger lived about twenty-three years in penitentiaries.

Human Laws, Lawmakers.
The prevalence of crime in America was ascribed by Mr. Eyttinger to the Volstead act, primarily; to the multiplicity of laws and duplicity of lawmakers; and to the consequent contempt for all law that these "bigoted and bigoted" statutes produce.

"The pardon and parole power," Mr. Eyttinger said, "should not be committed to one man's hands, for no person is good enough and wise enough to exercise it."

"Neither the genial Al Smith of New York with his generous pen; nor silly Ma Ferguson of Texas with her 1,000 pardons; nor your own putrid Len Small, with his pardon of perjured witnesses in his Waikiki trial, his reward of jurors and editor-friends with state jobs—none of these persons strengthens society's faith in the pardon and parole laws."

"Small's recent parole of young Perry nauseates a community stunned by the enormity of modern crime."

Calls Youth Today's Criminal.
"Youth is the criminal today, and how can they be expected to obey parental law when parents disobey constitutional law?"

"My remedy may be called the 'Three C's of Justice,'" the speaker went on: "Celerity of justice, certainty of justice, and character of justice."

"There should be a public defender as well as a prosecutor. This will do away with your criminal shysters, for which Chicago is notorious. Justice should be abolished, since jury exemptions eliminate doctors, lawyers, newspaper men and other high types of mind and citizenship. Three judges en banc should hear only the facts, and the prisoner should be made to take the stand. There should be no oratorical contest between lawyers."

"Since most criminals are defective, they should be examined and, if defective, sent to an institution and never released until cured."

"The only sentence for every convicted man should be from one day to life, and that should hang over him until he dies. If he becomes fit for freedom, he should know that without trial and conviction he can be sent back to continue his sentence for his first breach of conduct."

"There should be only provisional liberty for every released prisoner. I know what I'm talking about because I keep in touch with the underworld, and I know what it thinks about and fears. And I know what an electric shock of joy runs through that underworld when young Perry and his kind are paroled."

A Christmas Tie Record that's never been tied . . .

According to the latest statistics available, an average of 13,468,932 lurid neckties received as Christmas gifts annually, never make a public debut. (See U. S. Census Reports, 1876-1920.)

If stretched, end to end, these ties would reach from Ticonderoga, N. Y., to the River Tigris, . . . (Ratified, Board of Estimate, New York City).

Yet, so far as we can learn, no Peck & Peck necktie, purchased within the last fifty years, has ever contributed to this titanic national waste.

Because Peck & Peck ties are always easy on the eyes, the sort that are pridefully given and pridefully worn—far beyond their mileage guarantee.

Their exclusive patterns are bewitching, their distinctive colorings refined, and their texture and tailoring without flaw.

The latest rep silk stripes are priced at $2.75; the fine moire silks, from $4 to $6.50; the fancy cut silks, from $2 to $4.50; and the knitted silks, from $4.50 to $6.

THE HOLY ALLIANCE.

We owe something to Turkey. It is making the league of nations and the world court uncourt from the serenity of altruism and reveal real purposes. The present purpose is to assure to Great Britain the possession of the Mosul oil fields.

As this purpose unfolds the old Holy Alliance can be seen unfolding in all its purple from the white curtains at Geneva, where the council sits and the secretariat has humanitarian mediation. The Turks haven't got a chance, not an earthly chance. They may fight, having rejected the proposition that they lose their claims in a perfectly respectable manner, with the blessing of the world court and within the odor of holiness of the league.

If they will not permit the league to do it in a nice way, then the league will do it in a rough way. Land formerly Turkish has oil, and that establishes an inalienable title to it for the foreigners who can get it and keep it. Great Britain, with some compensations to other oil hunters and mandate grabbers, can do this, and the council has decided that the armed forces of Europe will teach the Turk, if necessary, that a mandate is a crown colony.

The council decided Friday in principle that the nations of the league should pool and use armed forces to sustain a decision of the council backed by an opinion of the court, or without such an opinion. That is the Holy Alliance against which the Monroe Doctrine was issued over 100 years ago. Great Britain had opposed this pool of strength for enforcement, but Sir Austen Chamberlain yielded in principle because this time the issue is for the most part a British concern.

It may be better for the world that the oil of Iraq may be taken for the uses of civilization, but if it were proposed in the United States that the oil of Mexico should be taken by the United States army for development by the Standard Oil company, and American leagueists, advocates of the world court, and all other pacifists would be carried to the undertakers.

If an American delegate had been sitting in the council seat, still reserved for him, he probably would have joined in the agreement that American marines should be available as needed to kick the Turk back if he made any attempt to enter the oil fields. If the United States had been foolish enough to get into the entanglement he would have had to see the thing through. One of the most fascinating ideas which comes from our pacifists is that America should enter Europe to keep the Europeans from doing what they otherwise will.

The league has not said that it would pool the armed forces of its member nations and keep the Turks from being disagreeable to the Armenians, who are particularly its wards. The Christian population of the Turkish empire had a most unpleasant time during the war, as frequently before and since. Soldiers were recruited among them against Turkey, and these people thought that better times were coming when the allies won.

Their cause does not appeal to the present day humanitarians. They were grotesquely offered to the United States as a charge. The United States declined in favor of nations closer to them, nations which were accepting mandates wherever there was a deposit of self-interest. The league, with the indulgence of the court, decides to mass its military strength for oil.

Force is to decide the possession of wealth, just as it has done heretofore. It's useless to have any objection to that. If objection prevailed against it in Iraq it would prevail against it everywhere. The white man is found exploiting the lands of other people whom he has been able to subdue. Why protest in the case of Mosul oil?

What we dislike is the platitudinous claptrap which invests this old procedure with the aureole of altruism and human good. This semi-deluded country of the United States seems to go down before a wave of moralistic humbug, a halcyon of auto-intoxicated sentimentalists and go-gooders who have had all dressed up as Santa Claus and are about to wheel his image before the people.

Great Britain will get the oil, and it may have to divvy up with some of the other claimants. The others will get something as the quid pro quo. A mandate will remain soft pickings, but the dependent force is to force the United States senators to dress in white robes, take palm leaves in their hands, and lead the American people into the world court, as an antechamber to the league of nations, with the idea that they are promoting fair dealing in the affairs of men.

THE IMPERIAL REALTOR.

Sir, Mussolini was explaining the necessity of the compulsory arbitration law to his underlings, the members of the chamber of deputies. He said: "Italy may be in a permanent state of war in five or ten years which may be decisive for the Italian people; I repeat for the race."

There are no halfway measures for Mussolini. Not "a war," but "a permanent state of war." Not "some day," but "in five or ten years." Not "only for the Italians," but "for the race."

Mussolini is ambitious, and he uses no diplomacy to hide it. Whoever heard of Great Britain or France going openly after so worldly a thing as oil? Their aim was the uplift of the downtrodden masses of Asia Minor. They failed and lost. Mussolini is a Luis Armiguer who telegraphs his punches and flatters himself that his bludge and his scowl will crush them over.

All was sitting pretty for peace. Then comes Benito with his war song, and the pastoral scene is ruined. The Locarno treaties were all signed and sealed and filed away as international Christmas presents when Mussolini pops out to declaim: "To vegetate is to be reduced to a colony, but we live for another thing. Life means struggle, hardship, and perseverance, not resignation to destiny. With energy and perseverance we can overcome the unfavorable destiny of our lack of raw materials and natural wealth."

Let other nations recline in peace, is Mussolini's thought. They have theirs. They can afford to curl up by the fire and dispose of the canary feathers. But Italy still has hers to get. The crowned Babbitt. Bigger Italy week for the go-getters. Every time Benito speaks it's a pep talk.

A DEBT IS SOMETHING TO BE PAID.

Secretary Mellon's annual report on the nation's finances shows that the United States government owes $20,000,000,000. The present plan is to pay back nearly $9,000,000,000 by 1944. The $9,000,000,000 is the amount spent by America itself in the war, as distinguished from the amount lent to the allies. Some congressmen want to take more time. They say truly that taxes could be lowered at once if less money were devoted to reducing the debt. They say we have given the European nations 62 years in which to pay what they owe; and why, then, should we be more lenient with European taxpayers than with our own?

Mr. Mellon's answer is that it will cost $12,000,000,000 in interest and principal to repay the $9,000,000,000 by 1944 and that if we allow 62 years for repayment the total cost will be increased to $24,000,000,000. That answer, we believe, will satisfy most taxpayers. The nation has to pay its debts, Americans have always believed, and the best way to pay them is to pay them as cheaply as possible; or, in other words, with as little interest added to the principal as possible. The conception of a debt as something to be paid has been the backbone of the American fiscal policy since Alexander Hamilton established the credit of the United States on that basis. It has not been so in Europe, where most countries had perpetual debts even before the war.

Mr. Mellon has tradition and economy on his side, and that is not all. His opponents are asking future generations to pay interest on bonds which represent no addition to the national wealth. The war bonds are unlike the bonds floated to build the Panama canal, which is an addition to the national wealth and should produce the revenue to pay for itself. The money realized through the sale of Liberty bonds was spent for purchasing supplies which were promptly used up. The bonds are producing nothing.

Every 20 or 30 years we have had a war in this country. One reason we have always won our wars has been the country's financial strength. We have been able to get the money to fight with. Our national credit has been strong because of our well defined policy of paying back what we borrowed.

There is no evidence for the belief that we have had our last war and still less that the mere fact of having a heavy debt to handicap our effort will keep us out of another. If another war comes, it is fair to assume that it will be no less costly than the last one was. We came to the last war not entirely free of obligations arising from the civil and Spanish wars, but the old war debts had been pretty thoroughly extinguished by the generations which fought them. The civil war generation paid a far larger proportion of its income in taxes than we are paying, with the result that we were not burdened with their debts in our emergency. We owe it to our children and their children to leave them equally strong in time of danger.

BRAVE SOLDIERS OF FORTUNE.

In days past, when soldiers of fortune hied out and hired out to seek adventure in the armies of foreign lands, authors wrote books about their exploits. Since the world war, however, soldiering has lost some of its glamour. Fighting has been found to be a bloody, nasty business.

In days past, soldiers of fortune cast in their lot most often with the under dog. They helped out struggling revolutionists in Central and South America. They enlisted in the Foreign legion and aided France against the German invader.

Now it appears that American adventurers are again helping France, and their leader, Col. Charles Sweeney, has been raised to a grand officer of the Legion of Honor in recognition of his services. Technically, of course, Sweeney and his comrades are in the army of the sultan of Morocco. But the decorations come from France.

And what have been the colonel's services to France? He has not fought German aviators in thrilling air battles. He has not sallied through burning anti-aircraft fire. That was the sort of fighting done by the flyers the Lafayette escadrille. The services of the colonel and his comrades have been to bomb mud villages and kill Russian women and children as well as Russian soldiers.

Their services have been hired out to a nation possessing the greatest air force on earth, against an enemy having not one single plane. Rifle fire is the worst they have had to contend with.

To crown their military achievements these modern soldiers of fortune have written home telling of the dangers they run. If captured they will be put to death by torture, probably by the women whose families they have killed with bombs.

It is an adventuresome life while it lasts. A little rifle fire for danger, and a constant chance of capture. Plenty of bombing, mud houses flying, women and children running and getting torn to pieces. And the Legion of Honor for the one who makes the most hits.

Editorial of the Day

HANES ACROSS THE NORTH SEA.

By a vote of 218 to 160 Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, noted arctic explorer, was elected rector of St. Andrews university, the great Scotch institution which was founded by papal edict in the year 1411, later becoming Protestant.

The retiring rector was Rudyard Kipling, who has recently been seriously stricken by illness, and Dr. Nansen's opponent was John Galsworthy, famous English writer.

No Scotch university has had so many prominent men for lord rector as St. Andrews, and this is the first time a foreigner has held the post.

However, it is only the North sea that separates St. Andrews from Norway, which is Nansen's home. It is related that in ancient times the clan of Ivers came across the North sea and conquered a part of the coast of Scotland, having some of their relations in Norway, so that in Norway there are the Iversens, and in Scotland are the MacIvers.

And now the relationship is cemented by a new and unique bond. Blood, even in the old world, where nationalisms are sharply delineated, is thicker than water, and the belated waves of the North sea are not too high to drown the far call.

SUNLIGHT TREATMENT FOR TUBERCULOSIS.

SEVERAL thousand Pennsylvania boys and girls afflicted with tuberculosis have been given the sunlight treatment somewhat after the plan used by Rollier in Switzerland. The method, as described by Dr. Funk, is as follows:

"Upon entrance, the patient is stripped only up to the knees and the sun's rays are allowed to reach the bare skin of his feet and lower legs for fifteen minutes. The day following the section from the knees to the waist is similarly treated while the legs are exposed for a half hour. Progressively the entire body is thus subjected to the sunlight, and pigmentation consequently effected without sunburn."

"After the skin has been properly browned the children from 6 to 14 years of age spend all of the day in the open air. They wear no clothing except trunks."

"The average gain in weight for a three weeks' period was three pounds, with a corresponding increase in general vitality."

The usual daily number of children in the institutions where the sunlight treatment is used is four hundred and twenty-five, but in the spring and fall several hundred additional are given the treatment for a total period of twelve weeks. This gradually growing experience has been in operation since 1919. Not all of the children treated by sunlight were actively tuberculous. Some had latent pulmonary tuberculosis, others had surgical tuberculosis, while others were said to be merely predisposed to tuberculosis. Perhaps most of those who were said to be predisposed to tuberculosis were pale, frail, undernourished, nervous children, and most of them had tubercular infections of deep glands."

In the opinion of Dr. Funk, the open air-sunlight treatment cannot be used with advantage in Pennsylvania in mid-winter and early spring. The weather was too cold for that. To bridge over that gap, daily treatment by ultraviolet lamps is recommended. He does not say just how extensive has been his experience with the ultra-violet lamp treatment of these several thousand children.

MUD, AND MORE MUD.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—[Friend of the People.]—Lavergne avenue from Hirsch street to Division will not be paved for some time. The street is so deep with mud that wagons and cars have to drive down the sidewalk. If the city could put cinders or ashes as far as Kamerling avenue it would help. The children get mud up to their necks trying to get to school for their books.

Our ward folks in the 27th ward are now engaged in filling in with clean ashes Lavergne avenue from Hirsch street to Kamerling avenue. Superintendent of Streets.

PASSPORT NOT NECESSARY.

Chicago, Dec. 9.—[Friend of the People.]—We have a friend in New Glasgow, N. S., and we would like to have him visit us for Christmas. He will have to have a passport to come here or can he just explain to the port authorities that he is just visiting?

An alien coming to the United States for a temporary visit is not required to have an immigration visa or a passport. He should confer with the nearest American consulate.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

60 YEARS AGO TODAY

LIVERPOOL.—There is no news of Stephens, escaped Fenian leader center of Ireland. The governor of the prison from which he escaped has been suspended. Intense excitement over the affair is reported.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Attorney General Taylor, on behalf of the state of Indiana, will file suit in Marion county asking the appointment of a receiver for the Order of the Choctaw Friends, one of the largest fraternal insurance associations in the United States. Pending claims against the order aggregate about $300,000. One of the primary causes of the failure is the great loss suffered in the Galveston flood.

LONDON.—An Italian from Boho, a district in the heart of London, burned a pin studded effigy of President McKinley on the doorstep of the United States consulate. He said he was a brother of Guido Manno, who was lynched in Louisiana, and was avenging the death of his kinsman.

CHICAGO.—Two men and a woman were burned to death and several persons were severely injured in a fire at 55 East Grand avenue, near Cass street. The fire started in a three story brick rooming house.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Senator Chamberlain introduced in the senate a bill providing for universal military training for boys between the ages of 12 and 18, with certain exceptions.

YEARS AGO.

When we went down a white road,
Years ago,
You were like the first rose
That comes when April's soft wind blows;
You were both instrument and ode
When we went down the open road
Years ago.

When I kissed your red lips,
Years ago,
They were as the honeycomb,
Yet sweeter than the honey's foam;
I wonder if the gold bee sips,
If eyes now close when meet the lips
As years ago.

Today I walk a windy lane,
As years ago;
But now I walk the lane alone
To where the gray seas writhe and moan—
My lips are kissed—the kiss of pain;
My tears come down like April rain
As years ago.

Today I walk a windy lane,

CHLOROFORM 25 IN 5 HOMES AND RANSACK TOWN

Ohio Robbers Escape with $1,300.

Shenandoah, O., Dec. 13.—(AP)—Sheriff's deputies tonight, after an all day search, were without clues to the identity of robbers who yesterday invaded the village of Bradley, near New Orleans, chloroformed twenty-five persons, and escaped with money and jewelry valued at $1,300.

The robbers attacked five families. At the home of David Landers five were chloroformed; six in the house of Joseph Lyons; four in the home of Joseph Darank; three in David Harbison's home, and seven in the home of Mrs. Legross.

Following the homes, the robbers put their victims under the influence of the anesthetic, and deliberately and systematically ransacked the houses. The houses were entered by means of skeleton keys.

Some of the victims recovered consciousness about noon and notified officers here, who proceeded to the mining village. A number of those put under the anesthetic still were sleeping when officers arrived. All the victims have fully recovered.

The robbers in each home opened windows so as to insure recovery from effects of the chloroform.

At the Legross home, Mrs. Legross and officers saw a strange man standing over her bed. She soon became unconscious, she said, and was unable to give any description of the man.

HUYLER'S CANDY BUSINESS SOLD TO DIXIE GROUP

New Orleans, La., Dec. 13.—(AP)—Announcement was made here tonight of the purchase of Huyler's candy business by a southern syndicate headed by Rudolf S. Hecht, president of the Illinois Bank and Trust company of New Orleans.

The consideration involved was not made public. It was announced, however, that $7,500,000 has been subscribed to the syndicate, with sufficient capital available after payment of the purchase price to finance a substantial development of both the retail and wholesale departments of the company.

The Change in Advertising Viewpoint!

The opponents of advertising used to talk of it as an expense—something taken right out of the liquid assets of the business that might better be devoted to salesmen, production activities or dividends. And the executives who sponsored advertising were frequently considered visionary and impractical.

Now the keen business executive favors advertising because he knows that advertising is the most certain and profitable market builder obtainable.

The proper utilization of advertising requires experienced counsel. There is just as much difference in the skill and wisdom of advertising men as of lawyers. Responsible advertising agency men are most cautious in their recommendations.

A useful view on judging advertising men and methods can be obtained from our book "Four Square Advertising"—mailed free.

MILK PRODUCERS WRESTLE WITH TEST PROBLEM

Discuss Solution Plan at Parley Today.

Hopes for an early solution of the long drawn out controversy between certain milk producers and city authorities, who insist milk from healthy cows exclusively shall be sold in the city, depend upon a conference today of the producers' executive committee.

A plan, the details of which have not been revealed, is to be discussed at the meeting in the office of Attorney Weymouth Kirkland, counsel for the committee.

"The farmers are anxious to deliver the kind of milk Chicago wants," said Mr. Kirkland. "But if their cattle are to be ruthlessly slaughtered, with no definite hope of recompense from either federal or state authorities, it will simply mean ruin to many producers."

Want Compensation.
"The fear that this recompense will not be forthcoming has been the sole stumbling block in the situation from the beginning. If we can get down to a calm, dispassionate discussion of this thing, some way will be found whereby everybody will be satisfied."

Health Commissioner Herman N. Bundesen, who initiated and is leading the fight for pure milk, said he was willing to listen to any reasonable plan, provided that plan made provision for one thing—pure milk from healthy cows.

"I don't want to see any farmer forced into bankruptcy," he said. "But we cannot compromise the health of Chicago."

Bundesen Not at Parley.
Dr. Bundesen said he would not be present at today's meeting. It was estimated that a conference with the health commissioner may take place after the producers have had an opportunity to thoroughly go over their problem.

The producers, realizing the violent public sentiment against milk from tubercular cows, will try to bring about a temporary halt of official action on the city's part pending efforts to learn definitely their chances of collecting for the value of such cattle as may be ordered killed.

Woman Shoots Self While Husband, 2 Children Eat

While her husband and two children were eating last night in the kitchen of their home at 2114 Kendall street, Mrs. Anna Tortorici, 35, entered a bedroom and shot herself through the heart. Gasparo, the woman's husband, told the police she had been despondent over ill health.

FILIPINO SCOUTS CAPTURE 3 MORO FORTS; 10 KILLED

MANILA, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Fighting between the constabulary of Lanao province and Moros, which followed the attempt of the constabulary to capture the murderers of a Filipino school teacher, ended with the destruction of three Moro forts which had been headquarters of the outlaws. In the encounter Friday ten Moros were killed, including the slayers of the instructor.

Nasarete, who was tortured and then decapitated.
First reports had 17 Moros killed and a number of others wounded, but subsequently the fatality total was placed at the lower figure. Four members of the constabulary were wounded, in addition to the deputy governor of Lanao, whose condition is serious.
The attacking force, numbering 400, was led by Gov. Orville M. Johnson. The offensive was launched after the fugitive outlaws wanted for the murder had refused to surrender. Saturday the operation was resumed, and all the Moro strongholds were taken.

Arrest Seven for Plot to Overthrow Soviet [Copyright: 1925: By the New York Times.]
LONDON, Dec. 13.—An official announcement from Moscow confirms the report of a strong anti-soviet movement in White Russia, according to a report from Riga. The political police at Minsk have arrested seven alleged leaders of the conspiracy, headed, it is said, by a teacher named Listopad. It is said the leaders tried to incite the peasantry to overthrow the soviet and establish an independent republic.

This property is located in the direct path of big developments that are now going on in and around Chicago and should be worth many times the price you pay for it when these projects are completed. Prices here should go up rapidly with building operations now under way. Remember, your best investment is always in a district where there are actual buildings being erected because here values must get higher with every addition to population.

PICK 32 RHODES SCHOLARS FROM AS MANY STATES

Woodbury, Northwestern, Is Illinois Selection.

Swarthmore, Pa., Dec. 12.—(AP)—The results of the annual election of Rhodes scholars held yesterday in thirty-two states were announced today by President Frank Aydelotte of Swarthmore college, American secretary of the Rhodes trustees. There were 420 candidates, representing 85 colleges and universities, this year for the thirty-two appointments.

Under the will of Cecil Rhodes each state in the union maintains always two Rhodes scholars at Oxford. Each scholar stays three years, so that each state elects two years out of three, elections being so arranged that 32 scholars go to Oxford each year.

The scholar elect from Illinois is Gordon Coleman Woodbury of Northwestern university, whose address is given as the Wrangler house, Evanston. The Indiana winner is Ernest Russell Boller of Purdue university, home at Lafayette, Ind.

Basis of Selection.

The stipend of a Rhodes scholarship has recently been increased to $400 per year. No restrictions are placed on a Rhodes scholar's choice of study. Rhodes scholars are elected, without examination, on the basis of their record in school and college, with special reference.

1. To literary and scholastic ability.
2. Qualities of manhood, character, public spirit, and leadership.
3. Physical vigor, shown by interest in outdoor sports or in other ways.

Rhodes scholars appointed yesterday will enter the University of Oxford in October, 1928.

WOODBURY A GRADUATE

Gordon Coleman Woodbury is from Sandwich, Ill., and took his degree at Northwestern university last June. He is now a student at the graduate school, a research fellow in the institute for research in land economics and public utilities. He was senior class orator, president of the university student forum last year, and a varsity track man, winning his "N" in the half mile and mile runs. He managed the Northwestern national interscholastic track meet last spring.

NEGROES BOB ROOMING HOUSE

Two Negro bundles held up a Negro rooming house at 433 East 42d street last night and robbed Henry Mitchell of $120 in cash, a diamond stick pin valued at $150, and a diamond ring valued at $200.

So You Are Going South!

Florida, Nassau, the Mediterranean, California? Then, of course, you are looking for all sorts of fascinating clothes to take with you, clothes that will be smart and comfortable in tropic sunshine or under the climatic vagaries of California's mountains and sea. And so, keenly alive to your needs, we have now in the apparel sections everything to fit into a summer's day round of gaieties—everything new, charming, that has been stamped with the approval of Paris, of Biarritz.

White is here in profusion, the lovely and fashionable rose family—ashes of roses, bois de rose, Miami rose—pale greens, the new bisque called nude, and all the flashing primitives of the modernistic designs. And the capes that are south-bound! They flare with jaunty impartiality from sports and evening wraps, from two-piece daytime frocks. Scarfs, too, are everywhere, from mere wisps of chiffon that snap about the throat after dancing, to soft, heavy folds of metallic.

CHILE TO ATTACK PERSHING'S AIDS ON TACNA BOARD

Plans 4,000 Word Appeal to Coolidge.

BY GERALD MARTIN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
TACNA, Chile, Dec. 13.—The Tacna-Arica plebiscitary commission will meet tomorrow to hear Augustin Edwards, the Chilean delegate, read his 4,000 word appeal to President Coolidge, the arbitrator in the dispute between Peru and Chile. Señor Edwards is appealing over the commission's rejection of his motion demanding an early plebiscite and the passage of Gen. Pershing's resolution fixing the ballot for April 15. News from Santiago indicates the Chileans are making overtures to Bolivia. It is believed Chile is preparing to offer Bolivia a Pacific port with a zone from its frontier to the sea just south of the Sana river on the present Peruvian boundary if Chile wins the plebiscite.

Edwards to Go to Washington.

At this week's diplomatic reception at Santiago, Foreign Minister Barros Borgoño held a prolonged conference with the Bolivian minister, Señor Lozada, in a private room.

Former President Alessandri of Chile is to return to Tacna-Arica. Following the recent happenings here, it was not believed that he would return before February.

A Chilean official said Señors Edwards and Claro will probably go to Washington after Christmas to present personally documents and exhibits regarding the Chilean appeal. It is known that they have been collecting evidence in the last few weeks, including photographs of communications to the Peruvian cruiser Ucaiyall from the commission's office which Chile claims incriminate Gen. Pershing's legal advisers.

Bolivia Wants Arica.

Bolivian officials here are silent regarding any overtures from Chile, but it long has been generally admitted that Bolivia has been playing a policy of watchful waiting. It is believed that Bolivia has asked Santiago for Arica, which Chile refused, offering instead a strip of land on the present Peruvian frontier with port facilities. Chile's present foreign policy seems to be to make treaties with every possible South American country. Santiago has already closed with Argentina and Ecuador, and Bolivia apparently is next on its list.

DYNAMITE BOMB ATTACK MADE ON FULL HOSPITAL

Kalspell, Mont., Dec. 13.—(AP)—The Sisters of Mercy hospital here, was dynamited last night. A heavy charge of explosives was placed under a window.

The hospital was full of patients and nurses. No one was badly injured. A portion of the building was torn away and every window in the hospital and that part of town broken.

The dynamite and fuse were placed on the sill of a window in the sisters' dining room. A portion of the fuse was discovered near the spot where the explosion took place.

The smoke from the fuse attracted a number of the sisters to the basement to investigate the furnace before the explosion.

Novel Sports Silks

Woven in Lyons and Hand-blocked in Paris
Exclusive with Marshall Field & Company

These Sports Silks now being displayed in the Silk Section carry with them as fascinating a story as do the rare old tapestries and brocades of France. Woven for Marshall Field & Company in Lyons and hand-blocked in Paris by Russian emigres, they present an alluring picture.

Without romance and story, however, the buoyant color and pattern of the Silks will capture you. Designs are modernistic and imaginative. In the collection is a pattern in blue swirls which reminds one of sea-deeps; another is like a starry night. There are abstractions in golds and browns and gold-browns; reds and brown-reds, color harmonies in plaid, and rush-like greens and blues. Many bright primitive and softer crayon shades in panel effects accommodate the vogue of the scarf gown now being shown for southern wear. 52 inches wide, $12 the yard.

2,000 PARIS GIRLS RIOT OVER RUDY; MUSS SHINY HAIR

Buffet Sheik, Tear Duds;
Cops Dig Him Out.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Dec. 13.—Rudolph Valentino's arrival in Paris from London tonight precipitated a riot by 2,000 French adoring, mostly feminine, who waited at the station for hours in the bitter cold, and, fearing they would fail to see him, ran amuck completely.

Rudolph, though the object of genuine good will, came to grief. He was buffeted in the sea of rioting femininity and crushed against a door in the jam. The combined efforts of his managers, pushing, shoving, and kicking shins, resulted in his rescue. He then was a sorry sight, his hat missing, hair unlicked, and clothes half pulled off.

Travelled "In Cog" Then.

Although Valentino visited Paris last week, he was then "incognito," thus invoking the one time privilege of royalty, inherited by their successors, the screen darlings, to cloak his numerous excursions to Montmartre and to see how he stood in his wife's supposed divorce proceedings.

The prefect of police when forewarned of Rudolph's arrival, refused to send police, availing that foolish women might riot to see him in America, where anything was likely to happen, but that this was France. This grave lack of insight into the nature of the French women resulted in the unprovoked invasion of Gare du Nord and the well meaning but nearly disastrous assault upon Valentino.

Die Through Glass to Car.
The police arrived in time to dig down to his limousine, which was stalled, buried under the frantic girls, some lying on the roof peeping through the windows at Rudolph, who, though accustomed to a certain measure of girlish impetuosity born of admiration, was pretty much upset by this rough and tumble welcome.

Mrs. Richard Hudnut, his mother-in-law, also is in Paris, insisting that a divorce is certain, and that although Winifred has not filed suit yet, she will be the first to petition for freedom.

Troops Curb Valentino Boycott.

ROME, Dec. 13.—(AP)—The government called a sudden halt to a demonstration of "nationalistic fervor" on the part of groups of youths, who had planned to boycott a film in which Rudolph Valentino was featured. Valentino recently has been denounced because of his intention to become a citizen of the United States. The film was shown simultaneously in two important movie houses last night. Strong detachments of Fascist militia guarded both theaters. Both theaters were filled.

SYRIAN BANDITS TRAIL JOUVENAL TO BEHEAD HIM

BEIRUT, Syria, Dec. 13.—(AP)—M.

de Jovenal, French high commissioner in Syria, asserted at a banquet in his honor at Aleppo that calm prevailed throughout Syria except in the districts of Damascus and Djebel Druze, where a minority was warring not against France but against Syria.

"What is it I have heard since my arrival at Aleppo?" he asked. "Loud cries against Damascus and a persistent demand for separation between Aleppo and Damascus. This is due to the fratricidal war."

This is interpreted as meaning the segregation of Damascus and Djebel Druze from the rest of Syria and the continuation of repressive military operations in these areas.

Rossana Tzarist, Moslem bandit leader operating in the Chagar quarter of Damascus, has written to a local paper that he has detailed forty men to behead M. de Jovenal.

BANDITS HOLD UP GROCER.
Thomas Paret, alone in his grocery and meat market at 1034 East 43d street, was robbed of $100 by two bandits who entered his store Saturday night.

Princess Who Lured in U. S. Denied New Passport

PARIS, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Princess Zislavoff, desirous of making another visit to the United States, has applied unsuccessfully to the American consulate for a renewal of her passport visa. She lectured in the United States for about ten months. The princess, who is a native born Frenchwoman, married Prince Karaman Petrovitch Zislavoff, who is now dead. It is reported that she desired to take up a permanent residence in the United States with a view to filing application for American citizenship.

HUNDREDS of Chicago business men are finding profitable uses every day for the new rapid long distance telephone service between Chicago and New York.

Calls to New York during the business day are now being completed (or a definite report given) in five minutes or less—frequently less.

Think what such a service will mean in your business! From your desk in Chicago to the desk of a customer, associate, or anyone in New York with whom you have need of speech—in five minutes or less!

Equally prompt service to New York on calls from home telephones.

PRESENT cost levels are much higher than those of ten years ago, so that each additional telephone installed now increases the average investment per telephone. To maintain the service the company's revenues must keep pace with this condition

The Most Anxious Moments in a Woman's Life

Some things women dare not even think about—mysteries no man can conceive—a brilliant, revelatory dissection of heart-breaking secrets.

IN the lonely stillness of the dark

—when hot tears patter on a midnight pillow

—or icy fears electrocute some fond plan

—or solitude prohibits a cherished yearning,

when one faces self-facts either calmly or hysterically

—what would you say are the most anxious moments of your life?

And how do yours coincide with other women's?

Be frank. Search the hinterland of your inner being.

Amazing Soul Facts

Sophie Kerr—one of America's leading feminists—helps you to come to an understanding and to a peace with yourself in a brilliant, clinical article in this week's issue of Liberty.

She brings lurking skeletons into daylight. She probes deeply into every woman's soul. She analyzes. She classifies.

No girl, no wife, no mother should miss reading this frank, stark vivisection. Yet it is told gently and kindly. No woman need shudder at its bitter truths.

Emotional Climaxes

Girls should read Sophie Kerr's article for its predictions. Wives should read it for its sage advice regarding husbands. Mothers should read it for its consideration of their eternal problems.

To quote from this alluring article is impossible, else we'd give you a peep into its fascinating paragraphs. The startling facts are so closely related, the sequence so intriguing, the arguments so climactic.

Get this week's issue of Liberty now on sale. Read this article through—it alone is worth more than the price of the whole issue, yet there are 19 other fascinating features, as listed at the right.

1697 PIOUS FUND
BRINGS $43,050
PER YEAR TO U. S.

Mexico Pays on Money Given for Missions.

Mexico City, Dec. 13.—[United News.]—The United States treasury soon will be richer by $43,050.99, which has been set aside by Mexico for payment of the 1926 annuity from the original "pious fund" founded more than two centuries ago. A decision of The Hague court compels Mexico to pay such an annuity to the United States in perpetuity.

No more romantic story of finance exists than that of this award whereby Mexico must pay this sum on Feb. 2 of each year. Shortly after Hernandez Cortes discovered Lower California the Roman Catholic church became interested in that desolate region of New Spain. It was believed to be inhabited by a race of Amazons and somewhere to contain the hidden treasure of the Aztecs.

Father Juan Maria Salvatierra and Father Juan Ugarte, a Jesuit, led an expedition into Lower California. The Latin courts of Europe were stirred by the high adventure. Princes and nobles of the church and state contributed large funds. The "pious fund," as it was called, was founded in 1697-'98 by Spain and the church.

All Europe Aids Fund. Father Salvatierra landed near what now is La Paz, Lower California, and with six other white men began building missions, some of which still are in existence. Interest increased in the venture and money came from all over Europe.

Mexican independence came and a junta was appointed to manage the fund. The junta sold the fund to a private individual for $3,000,000 in 1846, and ten years later the Mexican congress passed an act taking over the "pious fund" for the treasury, refusing to pay any portion of the income to the missions in upper and lower California, which had been supported by it.

By 1846 the richest missions were in upper California. Upper Californians and bishops protested Mexico's confiscation of the fund, and by 1858 caused the appointment of a mixed commission of Americans and Mexicans under the chairmanship of an Englishman. This resulted in a decision in favor of the missions, which were to receive $900,000.99 in cash and an annual payment from the income of the remainder of the fund. The principal was paid by Mexico in 1860, but the annuities were not paid.

Hague Court Fixes Payments. The case was carried to The Hague court. In 1903 the litigation ended. Accrued income, amounting to $1,420,443.27, was awarded to the United States, not to the missions, and Mexico was ordered to pay $43,050.99 annually forever unless the United States and Mexico subsequently agreed otherwise.

MICHIGAN HOAX IS RECALLED BY ARIZONA RELICS

New York, Dec. 13.—[Special.]—Discovery of supposed Roman-Jewish relics near Tucson, Ariz., today recalled the exposure of the Michigan archaeological frauds in 1908 by Prof. Francis W. Kelsey of the University of Michigan. The frauds were laid to James A. Soudfield, a sign painter of Montcalm county, Michigan. Late in 1898, near Wyman and Edmore, Mich., a man digging post holes found a small cup of clay covered with hieroglyphics. Other finds followed and much of the population of the two towns started digging. The hieroglyphics were thought to be a jumble of Egyptian, Assyrian, and Phoenician scripts.

A solid trainload of 104 Graham Brothers Trucks was shipped recently to six Dodge Brothers Dealers in Florida. Ten days after arrival every truck had been sold—and more were on the way.

The remarkable record of Graham Brothers Trucks has reduced an important buying problem to the simple expedient of asking the Dodge Brothers Dealer to "send one over."

'Snow White' Is Happy Vehicle for Talent of Junior League Girls

BY NANCY R.

Even the youngsters are getting the habit! I won't give away their identity, but there were several doing the Charleston up and down the aisles last Saturday morning at the Playhouse between the acts of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," the Junior League's second offering this winter. However, even their devotion to the latest dance couldn't induce them out of their places while the play was going on. Snow White and her companions were altogether too fascinating.

It stands to reason that every time the Junior League first performance is given it will be good, and every one in it will do her share toward making the play the thing. This group of young women is too earnest in its purpose to have it otherwise. This is a fact. Saturday it was, as a certain eminent Chicago gentleman in the audience remarked, that, like all amateur affairs, it was too generous to give us too much. But I doubt if even those members of the audience who were urged to lunch engagements be- fore the extra moments spent with Snow White.

That Marian McFadden was an entertaining heroine goes without saying—the McFaddens have rather a reputation for achieving what they set about. As for the others in the cast, I think the laurels were divided among Helen Hinde King (Mrs. "Andy" King), who was a radiant beauty as the wicked queen Janet Fairbank, as an irresistible, chuckling old witch, and the seven dwarfs, who captivated their audience with every spectre.

Among those watching the play, I caught a glimpse of the field secretary of the National Junior League, Mrs. Clara D. Garrison, who was with Mrs. John Lee and Mrs. Charles C. Haffner Jr. There were Sarah Hinde, Janet Pauling and Marion Clow; Mrs. John Clay Jr., Mrs. Earl L. Hamilton, Mrs. Francis Rickards and Little Anne, Mrs. Frank Hubbard and Mrs. Kenneth Sawyer Goodman, with the Goodman youngsters, the Walter Kirk children, Beatrice and Radcliffe, Mrs. Preston Boyden and her two, Nancy Poole with her brother and Roger and David Baldwin, and down toward the front of the theater a trio of growing-up little girls, Betty Brown, Mildred Starck and Polly Perry.

Willie was drawing animal pictures, and on showing me a parallelogram with four lines running from the lower corners, representing legs, and two lines ending in a small bow-like attachment from the center, and calmly told me, "That's a horse."

"I remarked that it was most certainly a thin and hungry looking animal."

"A little later Willie came back, having made numerous cross-crosses in front of the horse."

"What's that?" I asked.

"That's hair, and when the horse sees it he will get fat," was the answer.

MEN'S FASHIONS

Hints on Hats.

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence).—There is, contrary to all popular belief, no such thing as a dirty hat. It is the fashion among the college boys to pick out their oldest, dirtiest and most battered pieces of headgear and fondly wear it exposed to the elements the better and more desirable an antique it became.

Well, those were the good old days, still obtain on the campus, but not in the city street. For no matter how neatly you may be dressed below, a shabby topping off will ruin you as far as sartorial effect is concerned.

Don't wait too long to have your hat cleaned and blocked. If you have it done before the hat begins to show signs of wear and tear, it will prolong the life greatly.

Change of hatband will help to freshen up a hat. Only let me repeat the warning that when you put on a frock hat, be sure the hat is not so soiled that the contrast will be obvious. The change of hatband is advisable only when the band has become stained or soiled, or you happen to be tired of it and crave a change.

When buying a hat, take into consideration how recently you have been to the barber's for a haircut. It makes a difference.

Pity the Weak Skinny Children

Nature's greatest health builder and strength giver is Cod Liver Oil—it's full of vitamins of the first class—everyone knows that.

But pity the poor children—how can they take this tasty, nourishing stuff that invariably unites their small, delicate stomachs?

Most of them can't and now—thank goodness—some of them have it.

For now Cod Liver Oil comes in a delicious sugar coated tablet, that are as easy for the kids to take as candy, and they sure do build up the youngsters in double quick time.

So mothers, if any of your loved ones is frail and peaked or isn't feeling right just ask Owl Drug Co. for any drugstore for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—60 tablets—40 cents.

One child, this child aged 9 gained 15 pounds in 10 weeks on this new place daily with other children.

Splendid for any run down, weak, thin, nervous, or sickly child, but be sure and ask McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—the official and genuine. Try them for 30 days and if you are not delighted with the improvement your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

Great Love, Like That of Duse, Holds No Place for Regret

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Some women love love for the joy it brings and some women love love for its sorrows. Is it any wonder the young man signs himself "Perplexed" when he inquires how to proceed with a lady? How can you decide whether to advise him to do everything in his power to make her happy, flatter her, humor her, be gentle with her, when the girl's soul might be crying for a master who'd beat her, black-eye her, and batter her into pulp?

It does beat all what routes may be taken to a lady's heart, and how that would be nourishment for one starving soul would, in another heart, burn. But as Mr. Duse says: "There are them as'll take their love with violence and them as prefer their told with violet eyes."

Along comes Cecil Sorel, the French emotional star, with a disclosure made by Eleonora Duse, the world's greatest actress of her time, which just goes to prove what is one woman's gratitude would be another's hatred.

"The world plotted me when D'Annunzio, the poet and dramatist, let me know that I was his. I was not suspected that he was so bitter a dweller in my heart, and that even in my agony I blessed the great soul that had breathed life into me. Before he came I did not exist."

"He planted in me the seeds of joy and sorrow. No matter what he said to me, I loved him. I am, all I have created. 'If I reach the heights of ecstasy in any of my great roles, it is due to my memory of him.'"

"If my voice touches the heart-strings of my hearers, 'the echo of his voice which thrills me. If I still love life, 'tis because I remember the day when I saw it through his eyes.'"

"God bless him for having loved me! God bless him for having loved my soul to shreds!"

This confidence Duse made before sailing to America, after years of silence on her great love. The break in the romance of D'Annunzio and Duse followed after the poet had written their love affair into his novel, "Il Fuoco." It was reported at the time that Duse, broken hearted, tried to reveal the copies already distributed. An intimate, one who lived in Duse's home for a time, in some memories published while Duse, disheveled, the mental cruelty with which the great poet loved, treated the actress. She was older than he, upon which subject he flung her cutting, it was told.

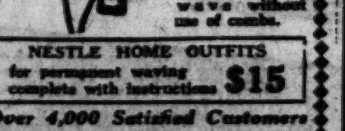

"When women love us," wrote Duse, "they forgive us everything, even our crimes; when they do not love us, they give us credit for nothing, not even our virtues."

Today We Are Paging Miss Ten to Fourteen

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence).—This young traveler of fashion is lucky to get a lower berth—a. For its unusual depth gives to the collar treatment a bolero effect.

Developed either in chiffon or georgette, this party frock deftly combines plaid and orchid to enhance in color its effect of daintiness. The deep bertha is slashed over the left shoulder giving a glimpse of a short sleeve. Here a knot of French flowers repeats the decorative theme of the skirt. The latter is gathered on full at the waist line and finished with a flounce set on in deep points outlined at the top by small knots of flowers.

For girls from eleven to thirteen such full-skirted frocks as this are probably the most charming. One in green, interpreted in satin, was finished by three rows of small triangular petals. In this case the plain bodice was slightly molded. So was it in another frock made with six little flounces of tulle set on a georgette skirt.

Though bouffant versions continue to hold sway over junior party frocks, the line followed in the daytime is sparing of fullness. A number of one piece dresses show a circular skirt of moderate amplitude, and the side plaitings which finish the typical jumper dress preserve straight effects. The latter are often characterized both by high collars and high colors. Red and coral combine with tan.

Chartreuse, blues, and lettuce green were tones stressed in a charming mid-season showing. One jumper of rose red was posed over a red and black plaid skirt. The same collection emphasized rayon over any other fabric and showed it in at least a dozen colors, not omitting fine checks and stripes.

Correcting That Disfiguring Line Between the Eyes

by Gabele Donnelly

"I have a sharp, deep line about an inch in length and perpendicular between my eyes. I thought perhaps it was eye strain, so got glasses, but it appears to be getting deeper and more noticeable," confides E. X.

Many persons develop a heavy wrinkle between the eyes. Usually it is born of eye strain, and disappears eventually with relief. It is possible my correspondent has not been properly fitted with glasses, or perhaps she has failed to return to her eye specialist to be examined. One examination does not serve for a number of years if the strain on the eyes is kept up in which several glasses are applied. For instance, glasses that served to relieve one four years ago might not serve at all this year.

Then, too, one gets the habit of frowning, sometimes started with the need of glasses, and the habit becomes so set one still contracts her brow even when there is no excuse for it. We have observed this in a close associate. When she reads she looks as though what her brain were consuming something quite painful. When her attention is called to it, she laughs and admits it's a habit. She will relax, and the wrinkle disappears—not entirely, though, for the habit has imbedded a fine line.

Recently she has been giving herself a nightly treatment. She dabs cold cream on the skin and with two fingers pulls it lightly. She then rubs her fingers on ice and puts some more. Then she takes a clean bit of cotton dipped in astringent and wipes off the cream. She has been doing this for ten days, and already the line is greatly diminished.

It is a disfiguring line that ought to be caught young and ruled out of existence. With the tight fitting hat it stands out clearly and gives an age look to the eyes and face.

You will have to bridle some interest relative to correct your every thing you are caught frowning. If it is just the habit that is to blame, but if you have been wearing glasses, perhaps the best thing to do will be to go back and find out if a stronger lens may not now be needed. Or, perhaps in the handling of the eye glasses the lens have become a bit askew, causing a renewed strain on the eyes.

BEWARE OF LIP STICK, ROUGE, BUNDESEN SAYS

Beauty Comes from Good Health.

As you do your daily dose with the lipstick, rouge, and powder, girls, don't kid yourself into a belief in the old fable about beauty being only skin deep.

If you risk your palefacedness on this sort of setting-up, you are alone in your efforts to make your face look like Mother Nature has given you the go-by and that as a result to the eyes you'll qualify as a candidate for the comic strip.

Advice to Girls of All Ages might be the title of Health Commissioner Bundesen's latest health bulletin, but he has selected this one: "Beauty Comes from Within."

Painter's Colic Exaggerated.

Dr. Bundesen is no erbe hanger. He admits there are skins you love to touch and gaze upon and that if cosmetics enhance the desire girls are perfectly justified in applying them where they will do the most good.

"The danger from painter's colic has been greatly exaggerated," the health commissioner says.

But cosmetics are only supplements to the real beauty secret, Dr. Bundesen says, and use of them can be abused. Mother Nature's rules of health must be observed if one is to enjoy beauty. Cosmetics are a real menace when used to cover the sin of violating these rules.

Nature's Own Cosmetics.

Fresh air, exercise, regular habits are nature's cosmetics, he says. Use these and a touch of artificial makeup will complete the picture, he says.

"Beauty is not only for the eyes," Dr. Bundesen says. In other words, your nose knows if the bathtub is neglected. The frequency of baths is a personal matter, so long as it is often enough for cleanliness.

And then, too, there is the matter of disposition. A good laugh and a cheerful countenance will smooth out more wrinkles than a massage.

$100,000 Fire Threatens

Detroit Business District

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 13.—(AP)—Damage of $100,000 resulted from fire in the business district here early today which completely destroyed a store, of five and living apartments above it, and a plumbing shop. The flames threatened the entire commercial section before being brought under control.

$100,000 Fire at Orangeville

Freeport, Ill., Dec. 13.—(AP)—Fire of unknown origin today destroyed the Henry W. Wagner building, a three-story brick structure in the village of Orangeville, causing a loss estimated at $100,000.

P. D. ARMOUR PRAISES PROPOSAL TO MERGE SCHOOL WITH N. U.

In a statement issued yesterday, Philip D. Armour asserted that the proposed merger of Armour Institute of Technology with the engineering school of Northwestern university would be advantageous to both institutions.

Mr. Armour, who is a member of the board of trustees of the institute, stated that he hoped a satisfactory arrangement could be made between the representatives of the schools. His statement followed:

"No definite action has been taken as yet toward affiliating the Armour Institute of Technology with Northwestern university, but contemplation of such a merger of educational interests that both have something to gain, and it is to be hoped that a plan satisfactory to both institutions may be evolved.

"There is no question that Chicago is the logical location for the outstanding engineering school of the country, and Northwestern university very properly wants such an institution among its colleges."

TAX COLLECTION COSTS U. S. $1.44 FOR EACH $100

Washington, D. C., Dec. 13.—(AP)—Cost of collecting internal revenue taxes for the fiscal year 1925 was $1.44 for each $100 collected, according to the annual report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

David H. Blair, made public today. The cost of collection for the fiscal year 1924 was $1.24 for each $100 collected.

Expenditures in administering the internal revenue laws for the fiscal year 1925 were $47,631,893.40. The total, however, includes $20,384.45 for the enforcement of the prohibition law and $1,161,952.79 for the enforcement of the narcotic law, which are regulatory provisions rather than tax measures. Deducting these two items of expense from the total leaves $27,245,436.15 as the expenditure for collecting the internal revenue tax for the fiscal year 1925.

The income tax collections for the fiscal year 1925 amounted to $1,761,659,049.51, compared with $1,641,759,316.29, or 4.3 per cent.

Progress toward decentralization in income tax matters has been made, according to Mr. Blair. So far as possible adjustments have been made in the various internal revenue districts, leaving to the Washington office only the duty of review.

LABORER FOUND DEAD IN YARD

August Straus, 58, a laborer, was found dead in the back yard at 1915 Alford street yesterday by John Balow, with whom Straus made $100,000. Death is believed to have been caused by heart disease brought on by moonshine drinking.

CHAS. LEDERER, EX-NEWSPAPER CARTOONIST, DIES

Charles Lederer, cartoonist and illustrator for the old Chicago Herald, Chronicle, and a conspicuous figure in the newspaper life of Chicago for many years, died yesterday at the County hospital, a victim of Bright's disease. He was 70 years old.

Born at Lowell, Mass., on Dec. 21, 1856, he began his career on Leslie's and Harper's weeklies, the New York World and the New York Herald. He came to Chicago about 40 years ago.

Lederer did his most conspicuous work in the days when news stories were illustrated by sketches drawn by staff artists. Later he turned to the writing and illustrating of juvenile books.

So far as his friends here know he left no relatives. He had been a patient at the County hospital since Dec. 7. Before that he was in a hospital at Racine, Wis.

Newspaper friends of the former cartoonist were asked yesterday by Harry Fisher, president of the Press club, to meet at the club, 171 West Adams street, at 12:30 o'clock today to make funeral arrangements.

LEGAL BATTLE ON EVIDENCE TO END MITCHELL TRIAL

Washington, D. C., Dec. 13.—(AP)—Delivery of summing up arguments by opposing counsel and the battle to determine whether evidence heard will be accepted as a defense or in mitigation of sentence stood out tonight as features of the last week of the court martial trial of Col. William Mitchell.

The prosecution plans to dispose of its remaining witnesses, including several of the highest ranking officers in the army, Wednesday, and unless the program is altered the fight on evidence will begin at that time.

NO CATHOLIC DRY STAND, ASSERTS THE REV. REINER

The Roman Catholic church has no defined universal attitude on the subject of prohibition, according to the Rev. Joseph Reiner, S. J., of Loyola university who spoke last evening in St. Ignace Catholic church, Loyola.

"At least sixteen bishops of the church either advocated the passage of the eighteenth amendment or encouraged their people to observe the law. Others thought the law was not a wise one."

"Of one thing we are certain, it is our duty to obey the law while it remains a law."

Hammond Doctor Dies

Something New! "Amateur Hours"

Tuesday, 10 p. m. . . . . W-G-N
Saturday, 10 p. m. . . . . W-G-N

All the fun and frolic of a night at some old theatre with the amateurs struggling hard to fame and plaudits in the face of cries . . . "Get the hook!" . . . "Take 'em off" . . . These W-G-N amateur nights are open to all who consider their talents sufficient to warrant an appearance before a microphone. Appointments to appear during these hours are obtained only upon written application to Station W-G-N, but everyone is welcome to apply! And what fun for the listener!

Tribune Symphony Orchestra

Wednesday, 10 p. m. . . . . W-G-N

Fine music has long been an institution at W-G-N, and some of the finest orchestral broadcasts in the middle west have come from its antenna. Famous opera and concert stars, as well as noted instrumentalists have starred its programs in the past, and starting next week W-G-N is to maintain its own symphony orchestra, under the direction of Henry Selinger. They are to offer an hour's concert each week of classical selections of such scope and quality as at present are seldom if ever heard from a broadcasting station. These concerts will find a place in the heart of every music-lover set owner.

Public Service Periods

W-G-N has uncovered a new field of value to its listeners, with its Public Service Periods. Entertainment, after all, fills only a portion of our lives, and W-G-N, through these service sessions, is endeavoring to use its facilities to furnish items which are informative as well as entertaining. Digests of the day's news, talks on a wide variety of subjects by eminent authorities, fashion and household hints, financial advice, and reports. Departments for the location of missing persons, assistance to the needy, and helpful information on any subject under the sun, are only a few of the new features brought to the air. These Public Service Periods bring to W-G-N and The Chicago Tribune a great and new and useful development in radio.

The Announcers

The Announcer is half of any radio entertainment, and W-G-N and WLIB pride themselves on possessing two of the most personable announcers in the country. The voice of Quin A. Ryan, chief announcer of both stations, has carried home to you the story of the Dayton evolution trial, the Kentucky Derby, the Indianapolis auto races, the world series, and the mid-west's most important football games, as well as a host of other entertaining features. Bill Hay has made a place for himself at the top of the heap by stellar work while at the announcer's mike for KFKX of Hastings, Neb., and his deep, well seasoned voice is one of the most popular in the country.

Orchestra Music of Exceptional Quality

Orchestral music of quality and good tone is one of the greatest demands of the radio listener. W-G-N offers as three regular features of its programs a trio of fine orchestras—the Chicago Philharmonic orchestra, the Drake concert ensemble, and the Blackstone string quintet. The Sunday afternoon program, furnished by the first named orchestra, is one of the finest musical diversifications offered to radio fans. This forty-piece organization is to offer fifteen concerts during the winter, all of which will be broadcast by W-G-N. The Drake concert ensemble and the Blackstone string quintet are heard during W-G-N's luncheon and dinner concerts each day.

"The Student Prince"

Next Friday, 8 p. m. . . . . W-G-N

The decade's most popular musical play on the air! Broadcast direct from the theater while the performance is in progress! Millions have been captivated by its beauty and have enjoyed the magnificent music that crowds the score, and W-G-N now offers radio fans their first opportunity to hear the rollicking "Students' Marching Song," "The Drinking Song," and its other popular numbers sung by the actors themselves. Quin A. Ryan will describe the settings and the stage action as the play progresses. Without doubt one of the year's greatest radio treats!

This W-G-N theater party is being given by Fannie May Candies and everybody is invited to tune in next Friday evening!

Radio Productions

Tuesday 9 p. m. . . . . WLIB
Thursday, 10 p. m. . . . . W-G-N

The radio production—an original play-let set to appropriate music—was originated at W-G-N, and nowhere have they reached as high a state of perfection. Exceptional care is lavished on them by the W-G-N Production company, and two more have been prepared for this week. Tuesday evening WLIB listeners will hear "Mother Machree's Magic Carpet," a golden journey to the Ireland of legend and song; on Thursday evening "Hawaiian Moonlight," with its flashes of the roaring surf at Waikiki, its tinkling ukuleles and guitars, and its singing, dancing maidens, is to be presented. Two unequalled hours of radio delight!

Jazz!

Sizzling saxophones and tuneful trombones . . . ! Jazz finds a secure place at W-G-N and WLIB. With Fred Hamm and his Liberty orchestra as a nucleus, WLIB has built up the most enjoyable jazz shows and frolics on the ether. W-G-N boasts Jack Chapman and his Drake hotel dance orchestra, famous for its records and wonder music, in addition to the Blackstone hotel dance orchestra, another aggregation of syncopators. In the field of jazz harmony there are Charlie Correll and Freeman Gosden, the W-G-N radio maniacs, while Freda Leonard and Jewell Barnett are the WLIB humming birds.

Music and Song From New York

W-G-N and WLIB have gone far afield to round out their programs. Four nights each week music and song are brought by leased telephone wire from New York, so that mid-west listeners have been able to hear the famous Atwater Kent concerts, the entertaining Eveready presentations, the inimitable "Roxy" and his "gang," the Clicquot Club Eskimos, a jazz band extraordinary, and the musical Goodrich Zippers.

When the United States resumed payments in 1879, after seven years of depreciated paper, the trade and current accounts were at crucial stages by two circumstances: today do not exist for London was a sudden turn in the trade balance to our great advantage, and the current account like that of 1924, but partly the very low prices prevailing since commodities. The second fact of a free gold market in London, whereby, when the current drew upon the gold trade account, gold was sent to us, not alone from London, Paris, Berlin, and other centres.

England's position during the months of resumption has been recent. Last year's European harvest shortage and depleted stocks of wheat, before the war, on the foreign trade balance opposite to those which helped in 1879. Great Britain's import was much larger than in the years before the war, and depending increase in its exports under the world wide rise in prices works against her; because

It always has reported a steady export of bullion, but it would necessarily make that greater in money value than in days, even if quantities of silver exported or imported were the same.

Gold Tighter in Europe

England has also been handicapped by the war. It has not only a few of the constituents of the present permit free gold export, but the state of international credit would normally prevent London cannot under circumstances draw gold from abroad. It probably could not draw it therefore, it lacks the opportunity possessed before the war, to finance import of gold from European markets without paying gold to New York to maintain produce.

It will be too early to see exactly the solution is destined to be. The solution of the war financial problems has brought forth unexpected obstacles to a sale that, while being a gold redemption plan would have been a means of £400,000,000 of the gold reserves of Bank of England's gold reserves in April and August, not only significantly depressed would have lost a loss of $96,200,000 in the four months. But we have time for the rest of the period following the strike when pressure on steel prices has almost invariably

$125,000,000 IN NEW FINANCIAL LIST THIS WEEK

New York, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Activity in the field of new issues brought the total of last week's offerings up to more than $1 billion compared with about $385,000,000 the previous week. Bankers commented that a notable achievement was the absence of any large scale division-foreign, railroad, utility, state, and municipal issues contributed to the expansion. Present indications new issues will continue in large volume. The remainder of the offerings will be led off with a group of Federal Land bank 40-year bonds at a price of $110 per $100,000 issue of $16,000,000. The new 1940 year convertible Federal land bonds of the Farm Lumber company will be offered by the company in the Pan-American Western company. In connection with the Consumers company public offering of $6,000,000 20 year sinking fund bonds at $1,000.00 five year

RAISE SUR
IN HOUSE

G. O. P. Holds
Rate at 20

BY ARTHUR SEARS H.
(Chicago Tribune Press Re-
Washington, D. C., Dec. del.)—Lining up with the publicans, most of the Dem-the house today attempted to the "nonpartisan" request of the ways and means com-reduce income surtaxes to a of 20 per cent. The Democfor a maximum of 25 per-were defeated by the regutarian majority.

If, when the bill goes to the Democrats of that body example of their house to proportionate numbers, the able, in conjunction with the let's group, to force adop-higher surtax schedule, thou-ably would not go above a of 25 per cent.

Vote 20% Surtax.
The net result of the first
ing of the bill in the house, section, for amendment, was proved in committee of the reduction of the surtax maxi-40 to 20 per cent, the red-normal tax rates from two, six per cent to one and one-
and five per cent, and the ex-the maximum earned income the special 25 per cent deduc-plus from $10,000 to $20,000.
When adjournment was house had reached the section
ing to personal exemptions.
T. Norton, new Democratic member from New Jersey, a amendment increasing the ex-for single persons to $1,500 heads of families to $2,000.
The Rainey amendment proa maximum surtax of 25 percent on incomes above $150,000.
Only a handful of Democrats
Representative Garner Tenn.), ranking minority mem-ways and means committee, of his associates on that com-stood by the 20 per cent max-the committee bill.

The La Follette Progressive port of the Rainey amendment withstanding this Democratic the alliance, the administra-Republicans won easily, the amendment being rejected by 217 to 196.

La Guardia Voted Dem.
Prior to the vote on the amendment a substitute of Representative La Guardia
La Follette Progressive, the maximum surtax at 30 percent on incomes above $100,000,
went down to defeat
vote of 24 to 266.

Representative Rainey in a bold surtaxes at a higher level, a 35 per cent maximum yield nearly $25,000,000 more than a 20 per cent maximum this could be used for a further of excise taxes.

Representative Garrett too tion that the condition of try does not yet warrant a of the maximum surtax below.
Representative Freeman
as spokesman for the little group, declared that if it may be would retain the pres-sum of 40 per cent.
No amendments were offered dealing with normal members of the house being with the cuts made by the G.
Two Amendments Rejected
An amendment by Repre-
Johnson (Rep., Wash.) for the men of employees of munic-from income taxes was a vote of 27 to 168. An an-Representative Wingo (Deto eliminate the section which the exemption of Amer-and in promoting the sale of goods abroad was defeof 28 to 145.
Senator Fletcher (Dem., N. street in the senate during amendments to the tax bill the repeal of the federal and for a material reduction in some taxes.
